

Titre et date / Title and date: Stillness – Paris 07/09/2000

Extrait de / Extract from: English texts (2001 - 2004)

When the sun is low-slung,
Light roiling through the fields,
While the windmills are standing still
Whiling away the time
Of the long windless days.

When the wine has been drunk
And the last door is closed
Dawn still will arrive
To my eyes turning blind.

The three windmills stand still
While the days are windless.
Dawn carries two gulls
In the high sky, mourning.